

Search Site

Kalispell City Council to review alternate funding for trail project

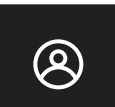

by Vanessa Perez
Friday, April 30th 2021

Future Parkline Trail (Photo: NBC Montana)

KALISPELL, Mont. — The city of Kalispell will decide on how they will pay for the rest of a multimillion-dollar trail project on Monday.

 The Trail, but bids they received exceeded the budget. 38° 63° 70° came in at $6 million.

 Monday night, the city says they'll present funding alternatives they have available to use toward the project to council members.

City council will determine what alternates they want to include, and then it's anticipated a bid

Search Site

"We're excited to be at this point in the trail, and it's a great discussion we had at the work session last Monday night related to this. We look forward to the discussion this Monday night," Kalispell City Manager Doug Russell said.

 Deactivated Widget

NBC MONTANA
 EMAIL NEWSLETTER

Stay Connected!

NBC Montana is Working For You to deliver the latest local news and weather right to your inbox.

Email Required